The Hinchingsbrooke Bösendorfer Piano Concerts 2012 - 13

The concerts continue into their sixth season bringing to Hinchingsbrooke artists of the highest international standing and of a quality befitting the memory of former Huntingdon Grammar School Director of Music, Kenneth Brown, in whose honour the Bösendorfer grand piano was bought by former pupils of the school.

Friday October 26th 2012: Sarah Markham, classical saxophone; Paul Turner, piano.

Following her prize-winning student years in the UK and USA, Sarah has established a highly successful career recording, broadcasting and concertizing both in Britain and abroad. Paul Turner, also an internationally prominent performer, makes a welcome return visit to delight us with his colourful and sensitive playing.

Their eclectic programme will include music by Bach, Debussy, Gershwin and Shearing.

Friday November 30th 2012: the Rautio Piano Trio - Jane Gordon, violin; Adi Tal, cello; Jan Rautio, piano.

This young trio has already achieved spectacular success performing at major venues in Britain and abroad. Individually recipients of a number of prestigious awards, together they form a cohesive and impressive group. This will be an evening not to be missed! Their programme will include music by Mozart, Beethoven and Brahms.

Friday January 11th: Masayuki Tayama, piano.

This outstandingly fine, passionate and warmly communicative pianist returns by popular request with a programme of music by Mozart, Chopin and Rachmaninoff. His several previous performances at Hinchingsbrooke have earned him the highest accolades from audiences as have his appearances nationally and world-wide.

Friday February 22nd: The North York Moors Festival Ensemble - Min-Jin Kym, violin; Philip Dukes, viola; Jamie Walton, cello; Ian Brown, piano.

We are very fortunate indeed to be able to host, once again, popular cellist Jamie Walton, this time bringing from his prestigious North York Moors Festival a new ensemble of distinguished musicians to play piano quartets by Mozart, Fauré and Schumann.

Friday March 22nd: Marina Nadiradze, piano.

Yet another musical feast offered by one of our all-time favourite artists! Following early successes in major international competitions, Marina has developed an enviable career world-wide with playing distinguished by fine artistic sensitivity, spectacular technical subtleties and, above all, generosity in communication.

Her programme will include music by Mozart, Liszt and Schumann.
